

Sounds Of Singchronicity - Oct 2008

Good Vibrations of a different kind.

Hello and what an exciting month it has been! I have been accepted into the Qld Performing Arts Centre Choir to perform in a series of Christmas concerts on the Playhouse stage in November. Performances will be 27 to 29 November, so pencil them in to your diary.

Kerrie and I had the pleasure of participating in our very first painting with pastels art class. Whilst this was certainly not about sound and song, it got our hearts singing for joy! We had a highly skilled teacher who demystified the art in a very short time. We will certainly be going back for more. Neither of us had painted anything since we were at school. In the space of one day under the guidance of Irena Kirpichnikova we were able to produce the following masterpieces :-)

by yours truly and

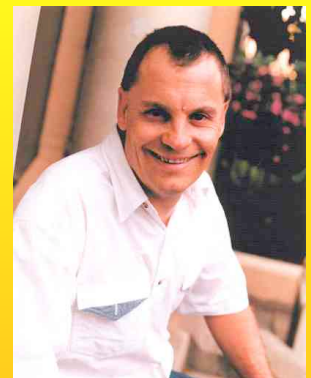

and

by Kerrie.

Irena runs Spiritual Art Classes at Mt Tamborine and will have you painting exquisite Spiritual Beings in just 3 hours! You'll feel connected, relaxed and you'll have the best fun! It is enlightening and healing. Your painting will bring out emotions and tell you a story and heal you with colours. You will have breakthroughs in yourself as you challenge your illusions. Classes are held Wednesday night 6.30 PM – 9.30 PM & Thursday morning 9.30 AM – 12.30 PM. $25 per class all material included for your first lesson

Corporate Workshops & Retreats

Anytime, any place! From 1.5 hours to full Weekends!

I can tailor specific workshops & retreats to meet your individual or groups needs. Always using sound and song as the base, I have conducted workshops for The Australian Acting Academy, Metagenics, at The International Congress of Natural Medicine and in October I am going to Sydney to close a Conference for the International Aromatherapy & Aromatic Medicine Association.

I have found some lovely venues for small groups and catering can be provided at realistic prices. These workshops stand on their own or can be part of your own program and used for introductions, break-outs and or closings.
